

A MIND IS LIKE A PARACHUTE

The information in this brochure may come across to some as if they're being told the earth is, in fact, flat. After all, how can something so accepted be so wrong? It's a lot to ponder. Considering events over the last twenty years, the implications of HIV not causing AIDS are epic in their proportions.

And you may be asking yourself, "If HIV doesn't cause AIDS, then what does?" That's a good question! Unfortunately, there is not one, simple answer. The cause of AIDS is still up to debate, though many scientists feel it is multi-factorial distress on the body, such as toxins (including certain recreational and prescription drugs), severe stress and prolonged malnourishment.

This brochure is entirely too small to encompass a thorough discussion of all the issues surrounding the AIDS debate.

As an introduction to the rethinkers' (a.k.a. the "dissident") movement, this brochure was written to pique a reader's interest enough for them to seek more information on their own. This is for anyone who has no idea that there is more than one side to AIDS, because you have a right to know!

The information presented herein is also just the tip of the iceberg regarding the vast array of "dissident" information that is available via print or online. The reader is encouraged to utilize the resources listed on the back for a more in-depth study.

Thanks for being open to reading this! It takes courage to question any prevailing paradigm—even if that questioning only occurs within your own mind. And on behalf of rethinkers worldwide, we'd just like to say, "Welcome to the other side of AIDS."

THE TRUTH IS OUT THERE

Please consider visiting these Websites:

<http://www.aliveandwell.org>

<http://www.theperthgroup.com>

<http://www.virusmyth.net>

Or consider visiting these chat groups:

<http://www.aidsmythexposed.com>

<http://www.dissidentaction.com>

<http://forums.delphiforums.com/innocuous>

People who think any scientific fact is indisputable don't understand scientific facts.

- Dr. Kary Mullis

Please check out these books or films:

What if Everything You Thought You Knew about AIDS was Wrong? by author Christine Maggiore

The Truth about HIV by authors Steve Ransom and Phillip Day

The Other Side of AIDS a film by Robin Scovill

Deconstructing the Myth of AIDS a film by Gary Null

Please copy and distribute this brochure!
<http://groups.msn.com/HEAL-Northwest/documents.msnw>

RETHINKING AIDS

There is an ongoing debate within the medical and scientific communities regarding the "HIV=AIDS" hypothesis. This debate began April 23rd, 1984 when Robert Gallo of the National Institutes of Health proclaimed at a press conference he had found the probable cause of AIDS.

Rather than publishing the HIV theory in a peer-reviewed scientific journal, Dr. Gallo announced it to the press without due scientific process. Afterward, all funding for finding the cause of AIDS was cut off, since Gallo's claim that AIDS had a viral cause was presumed to be correct based on the global influence of the NIH.

Many scientists and doctors have come forward to challenge HIV as the cause of AIDS, but they are often called "AIDS denialists," despite the fact that many of them used to be involved in AIDS research and some even developed aspects of the current HIV/AIDS *testing and treatments.

As you may remember from school, science is founded upon questioning what we think we know. We've been told for twenty years HIV is the indisputable cause of AIDS, but the following quotes indicate just how much there is to question in the "HIV=AIDS" paradigm.

YOU CAN QUOTE ME ON THAT

A growing group of scientists think that HIV is harmless—or doesn't exist at all—and that the collection of previously known diseases, redefined as “AIDS,” is not contagious.

“Where is the research that says HIV is the cause of AIDS? There are 10,000 people in the world now who specialize in HIV. None has any interest in the possibility HIV doesn't cause AIDS because if it doesn't, their expertise is useless.” California Monthly, Sep. 1994

—Dr. Kary Mullis, PhD, Biochemist, Winner of the 1993 Nobel Prize for Chemistry for inventing the polymerase chain reaction, the basis for the HIV viral load tests*

“There is simply no proof that HIV causes AIDS—at most, it seems to play only an opportunistic role. The only thing scientists have to call HIV are protein and gene strands—they haven't even isolated a virus at all. It's like the squatters who are blamed for a building's decay after thieves have already ransacked it. The erosion of the competency of our immune systems has much more to do with it, through multi-factorial causes like toxins, stress and poor nutrition.” 12 Jan. 1997 Sunday Times

—Dr. Kriben Pillay, PhD, University of Durban-Westville, South Africa

“Those who too late or never receive essential knowledge, may die in the throes of an 'AIDS' diagnosis or commit suicide. That 'HIV' has never been identified as secure biological matter is of the greatest importance and must immediately be told to every stigmatized person.” Continuum Feb./Mar. 1997

—Dr. Stefan Lanka, Virologist, PhD, University of Koblenz, Vice President of Science, Medicine and Human Rights, Germany

“When AIDS patients' bodies finally break down from the effects of these anti-viral drugs, they say, 'Now the virus has become resistant, and the drugs have lost their effectiveness.' What really is happening is the toxicity of the drugs builds up to a point where the patient cannot stand it anymore. And, of course, they say it was the virus—rather than the

How can 99.99% of the world's scientists be wrong?

This apparently disarming question has an apparently disarming answer, which is “Why not?”

—The Perth Group

entirely inevitable and predictable toxicity of these damned drugs.” Reappraising AIDS Feb./Mar. 1998

—Dr. Peter Duesberg, PhD, Professor of Molecular Biology, University of California; member, National Academy of Sciences; first to map the genetic structure of retroviruses; five-time recipient of the National Institutes of Health's Outstanding Investigator Grant; and author of Inventing the AIDS Virus

“The transmission of AIDS from person to person is a myth. The homosexual transmission of AIDS in Western countries, as well as the heterosexual transmission of AIDS in Africa and in other underdeveloped countries, is an assumption without any scientific validation.” www.virusmyth.net, Sep. 2000

—Dr. Roberto Giraldo, MD, specialist in internal medicine, infectious and tropical diseases, New York and former Chairman of the Department of Microbiology and Parasitology, University of Antioquia, Colombia

“The HIV hypothesis of AIDS is the biggest scientific, medical blunder of the 20th Century. The evidence is overwhelming that AIDS is not contagious, sexually transmitted, or caused by HIV. The physicians who know or suspect the truth are embarrassed or afraid to admit that the HIV tests are absurd and should be outlawed, and that the anti-HIV drugs are injuring and killing people.” Mail & Guardian, Johannesburg, SA, Jan. 24, 2001

—Dr. David Rasnick, PhD, Biochemist, University of California, developer of the Protease Inhibitor*

“There is NO SUCH THING as the HIV virus. If there was, don't you think that the multi-billion dollar AIDS industry would have produced a sample of it by now? Something that actually replicates in human tissue? But hey, prove me wrong: Cite the scientific papers showing isolation and replication of the virus.” BBC News World Edition (online), 11 Nov. 2003

—Toby Gettins, Theoretical Physicist, Birmingham, UK, researcher, High Temperature Superconductivity, University of Exeter

Compiled from <http://aras.ab.ca/aidsquotes.htm>